PROCEEDINGS OF THE ROYAL SOCIETY B

royalsocietypublishing.org/journal/rspb

Dedicated to the fast publication and worldwide dissemination of high-quality biological research.

Proceedings B publishes work of outstanding scientific importance, novelty and interest across biological disciplines. Article types include peer reviewed research papers, reviews, and comment and reply papers.

The journal is particularly well known for ecology in the widest sense, and behavioural and evolutionary biology.

Planned special features for 2021 include Evolution in Changing Sea and Stability and manoeuvrability in animal movement: lessons from biology, modelling, and robotics.

Widely read and cited, with an enviable reputation within the scientific community and the media, this journal is an important part of any biological sciences collection.

Features Include:

- high quality, international articles
- fully peer reviewed to the Royal Society's high standards
- articles put straight into e-issues with final citation
- custom searching and content alerting functions
- immediate free access to previous nine years of back issues.
